

Physiologists for the Excellence in Football Project
National Sports Medicine Programme

The National Sports Medicine Programme is seeking to recruit experienced Physiologists to join the Excellence in Football Project. The aim of the Excellence in Football project is to provide high quality services to 14-19 year old players in the football clubs within the State of Qatar. The successful candidate will be required to monitor the way in which footballers within the Football Excellence Project respond to exercise and training and to devise and administer (in conjunction with the Physical Coaches) the necessary fitness training programs in order to optimize physiological readiness for competitions. Also they will be required to take an active role in education and research to various projects to a level of international excellence.

The successful candidates will be joining an experienced team of sports science professionals and must have a minimum of five years' experience. He will also have a Master's Degree in Exercise/Sports Physiology or equivalent.

To apply for these positions, please submit a cover letter outlining your interest in application and include your CV, to Eleonore Zeinaty at Eleonore.Zeinaty@aspetar.com

The deadline for submission is 1st May, 2015.